The President of the United States of America

By: Rami Madani and Kenneth Javier

Barack Obama

Barack Obama has won the 2012 presidential election against Mitt Romney! He will be serving his second term as President of the United States. President Obama has promised to do everything he said in the debates and on the news.

During the election, President Obama had won 25 states and Washington D.C while Governor Romney had won 24 states. The main reason why Obama won the presidential election was because he won California which was worth 55 electoral votes. Not only did Obama win in the electoral votes, he won the popular vote too. Mitt Romney got 58,073,013 votes while President Obama got 61,062,730 votes. President Obama promised the first thing he will do is remove all American troops from Iraq. He is known mostly for Obamacare, an affordable health plan for all ages. President Obama will also try once more to close Guantanamo Bay and free everyone. He will provide more jobs and improve education. The president will make every effort to make the United States a better country. He will do more than just Obamacare and generate more jobs, he will bring extensive benefits to our economy. Over the next four years President Obama will change this country and make it rich once again.

Mock Elections 2012

By: Bailey Caras

After a long campaign between Governor Mitt Romney and President Barack Obama, we are pleased to announce that Obama will continue his term for another four years. This was based on electoral vote and the popular vote by American citizens. In our school's mock election, we too, voted that Barack Obama should continue his term! A big thanks to all students that researched and made an educated vote!!!

PROPOSITIONS 30-40

By: Rami Madani and Kenneth Javier

Not sure which proposition is right for California? Propositions are laws for California that could make a big impact on this states economy. Propositions will either improve or weaken California's economy. If Proposition 30 passes, it will raise more money for schools but will increase taxes. Proposition 31 is a ballot proposition. It will also establish a two year state budget cycle. If proposition 32 is passed, it will prohibit unions from using payroll deducted funds for political purposes. Proposition 32 claims to stop the special exemptions act also. Proposition 33 focuses on lower insurance cost and finding jobs for the unemployed. Proposition 34 is said to eliminate the death penalty for violent crimes and instead it will be changed to life imprisonment. If Proposition 35 passes it will make sure that human traffic offenders receive harsher prison sentences. Proposition 36 revises the Three Strikes law to impose a life sentence only when the new felony conviction is serious or violent. It will also put an end to the death penalty. If Proposition 37 passes, it will let us know more about the food products we buy especially those that have been genetically engineered. Proposition 38 claims that it will help students receive a brighter future, yet it will also raise income taxes in order to accomplish this. Proposition 39 has been written to close the job loop-hole and prohibit unnecessary burning of fossil fuels. If Proposition 40 passes it will hold politicians accountable for keeping Californians out of the redistricting process. In conclusion, the research provides valid arguments for both sides of each Proposition. Now it's time for you to make your decision.

REPUBLICANS VS. DEMOCRATS

By: Jillian Cantu

The strongest political parties are made up of Democrats and Republicans. People choose their political party based on education, economy, and governmental views. Republicans and Democrats are very different and there is always a debate between their beliefs. To begin with, both parties have different views on education. Democrats believe that spending money on education will give all children access to a better education that will bring them a good future. Republicans believe funding schools does not ensure a better education for every child. They believe schools and districts should be held accountable for their performance. Government views are strongly defined for both parties. Democrats are seen as liberal. This means change is good. They believe that the federal government should use tax payer money to help the under privileged. They believe that some people need welfare to give them the support they need to reach equality. The Democrats also believe in taxing the rich more and lowering taxes on the poor. Republicans are conservative and they like to keep everything the same. They believe that government should be less involved.

They believe in spending less and economic freedom for businesses. The Republicans also want to lower taxes for everyone. Republicans believe the U.S. economy is impacted by too much government involvement. Democrats believe that all citizens have certain rights which include affordable healthcare. Democrats want more government regulations that will make corporations pay their fair share. Republicans believe that every citizen only has a right to what they can afford and should be able to take care of themselves without the government interference. They believe in economic freedom for corporations in our nation and business relations with foreign countries. Although both parties have valid beliefs, they debate over our nations policies. This affects peoples' views on education, economy, and government laws. People have different political views when choosing to become a Democrat or Republican. The choice is yours; are you a Democrat or a Republican?

MRS. KWIATKOWSKI

By: Atira Nopenkam

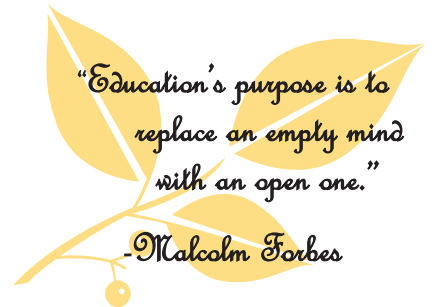

Have you ever wondered about the math teacher in room B10? Well, that's Mrs. Paaru Kwiatkowski! Teaching math was never really Mrs. Kwiatkowski's lifelong dream. She always thought she would go into business like her family, but thought, "Is this really what I want to do for the rest of my life?" If she hadn't become a teacher, Mrs. Kwiatkowski would've wanted to be an artist. She was inspired to teach math because there's always a right or wrong answer; this made it her most favorite subject. There were a couple of schools Mrs. Kwiatkowski taught at before coming to Ramirez Intermediate.

She taught at Parkridge, Corona Ranch, El Cerrito. She says her favorite part about working at Ramirez is the people, from students, to teachers, to staff.

Mrs. Kwiatkowski's favorite hobby outside of school is watching movies with her husband. Her family includes her mom, Koki, her dad, Balvant, her brother, Bimal, and her husband, Mike. When Mrs. Kwiatkowski was in middle school, her favorite subject was drafting, which incorporated math and art.

Her least favorite was writing because it was just never her forte. A few interesting facts about Mrs. Kwiatkowski that you might not know are her favorite football team is the Chicago Bears, and her greatest fear is failing at anything in life. Mrs. Kwiatkowski is a teacher who inspires us each and everyday.

MS. COLTEY

By: Bailey Caras

Do you have Mrs. Coltey as a teacher (or just plain want to know more about her)? Keep on reading to find out answers on questions asked during a personal interview. Mrs. Coltey has been teaching for a total of eleven years; two of these years at Ramirez as a World History teacher. Her favorite part of the day is being in the classroom because she likes making an impact on student's lives. She enjoys spending time with her son Cayson who is a 5th grader at Rosa Parks Elementary.

When she's not teaching or with her son, she enjoys teaching Zumba classes. She believes being physically active is important, so she loves Zumba, and going to the beach. When I asked her what her most embarrassing moment was, she said she really doesn't get embarrassed much because even though she says she's clumsy, she just laughs it off. If she had to pick one though, it would be when she was with her trainer and her shirt was inside-out. Her favorite part of teaching world history is watching her students grasp the material and see how it applies to their lives. A message for her students is to "Do everything right the first time" and "The only silly question is the one you don't ask." She likes to be taken seriously so when she wants something done, do it! Mrs. Coltey has an amazing personality and clearly is an awesome teacher. I feel privileged to be in her class. Through this interview, I have gotten to know more about her life and how teaching is important to her. Being a great history teacher means bringing history to life and watching students grasp the material.

BAN THE DEED NOT THE BREED

By: Skylar Harris

What would rather you ban; something that kills an average of 440,000 people each year or something that kills about three people per year? The sad part is, people prefer to ban the thing that kills less people. How many times have you seen a pit bull attack reported on the news? A lot! How many times have you seen a pit bull on the news for doing a good deed? Never. These dogs are well known for their bad rep and "viciousness", but aren't all like the media portrays them. You may not believe it, but pit bulls were the most decorated dog during World War II. Most of you probably know who Helen Keller is; did you know that she, along with President Franklin T. Roosevelt, owned pit bulls? Shocking, right? Statistics say that you are more likely to be killed by falling coconuts than you are by a pit bull. So why don't we ban coconuts? They are also called the "nanny" dogs because of how good they are with children. Why do these dogs get such a bad rep if they're so sweet? Some owners take advantage of how loyal and easy to train they are in order to make them fighting dogs. That is also the reason pit bulls have their ears and tail cut short, so other dogs can't bite on to them. Now, people hate these dogs because of some stupid individuals. Now, tell me; would you rather ban cigarettes, a thing that kills an average of 440,000 people each year, or pit bulls, an animal that kills about three people each year? Think about it.

FOOD OR FRIENDS?

By: Kaelyn Gordon and Kaity Williams

Is your patience running thin? Lunch lines at school seem to get longer and longer by the day. Students should be able to get lunch fast and be able to hang out with friends. In class, we aren't allowed to talk and lunch is the only time we can truly talk with our friends and now it's being stolen right from under us. There are a lot of students at our school, over a thousand. All of us are on the lunch ladies to ease up the work load on them. We should have food vendors like Subway, Dominoes, and Carl's Jr.. The bar where everyone sits at lunch is turning into a negative resort for students and would be of better use as a series of booths for vendors. On Tuesdays, we should have Taco Tuesday and have a taco truck come and park where the basketball courts are. Our students work hard in school and deserve a day dedicated to them. All in all, we respect and appreciate the lunch ladies, vending machines, and lunch items but it's time for a change.

THE WEIGHT ROOM

By: Bailey Caras

The weight room in P.E. is a fun place that enables you to have fun and work out at the same time! Unfortunately, we as students only get to experience this amazing feature at our school for about a month and a half out of the whole year. Right now, our schedules limit us to a small amount of time allotted to the weight room. It's set up this way to assure that every class gets time to be in there. Personally, I think it would benefit us and give us better results if we shared the time weekly. For example, every day, excluding Wednesdays (because of early release) we would be assigned to a specific teacher. That way we could get better results, and it would become an all year activity. Wednesdays could become our running and testing days because there is hardly time for anything else. If the schedule for the weight room was set up on a weekly basis, it would clearly be better for the students. We could get lasting results and be able to experience the weight room all year!

MONSTER ENERGY DRINKS

By: Brianna Oropeza and Cassandra Gonzales

Have you ever tried a Monster energy drink? If you have, have you ever wondered what you were drinking? Dr. Steven Lipshultz, has done scientific research to prove energy drinks are NOT safe for kids. Dr. Lipshultz has studied at the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine and has proven that energy drinks contain harmful substances. He says the drinks have a high amount of caffeine and other dangerous compounds. In addition, Dr. Lipshultz said there is a chemical in the drinks that can harm the heart. The caffeine and other dangerous compounds can increase the heart rate and blood pressure. There is also evidence that some compounds slow the blood flow through coronary arteries. Some of the harmful compounds used are Guana, taurine, L-cartine, ginseng, and yohimbine. These energy drinks are definitely NOT safe. However, many students believe that they provide more energy, lose weight, and perform better in sports. However, energy drinks do the exact opposite; they interfere with sleeping and can completely stop weight loss. Dr. Lipshultz also shared a story on how harmful energy drinks can be. On October 19th the parents of a 14 year old Maryland girl died after they drank a 24oz Monster Energy drink. Now the family is suing the Monster Energy Drink Company for this tragedy. This is not the only death; more have been documented. Please do not drink these harmful, life threatening energy drinks. They do not provide any benefits for anyone of any age, so be safe and don't drink them no matter what.

SOUNDS OF HALLOWEEN

By: Bailey Caras

The "Sound of Halloween" drama performance put on by Mrs. Scott's 6th period drama class was an amazing and unforgettable performance. It was an adventure of four students that were supposed to go straight home after a school function. Instead, they embark on a journey inside an old abandoned house. The first group of students to perform debuted the play on Tuesday, October 30th at 7pm. There were wonderful props and decorations upon entering the auditorium. The four students in the play, Morgan, Alex, Sam, and Tera are walking home from school when they pass The Mötley House. Even though, they know they should have kept walking home, something inside them makes them want to enter the infamous Mötley house. The Mötley house is supposedly haunted, so the children are anxious to see if the legend was true. Inside the house, they get really scared when they hear many spooky noises. Eventually, they run into Mr. Foley, an old man who is recording spooky noises for a soundtrack. They all laugh at each other wondering how they could be fooled so easy. Unfortunately, they hear a spooky voice that Mr. Foley "claimed" he hadn't recorded and everyone becomes scared.

Is the house really haunted? Were the voices at the end a prank, a work of Mr. Foley? The fun part is that it's whatever you choose to believe! In the end, the kids all get in trouble for not going straight home.

Stay Tuned for Ramirez Drama to present their first musical. Coming Spring 2013.

TIRELESS TEACHER

By: Kaelyn Gordon and Kaity Williams

The Tireless Teacher award is an award given to a teacher who goes above and beyond for his or her students and is truly "tireless". For a teacher to win the Tireless Teacher award his or her has to be nominated by the students. As the weeks go by, there will be two opportunities a week for every student to fill out a Tireless Teacher nomination slip. These students will be from ASB and will be available first and second lunch every Tuesday and Thursday. At the end of every trimester, the teacher that wins will receive a purple tire (wolf pack pride color) to symbolize how truly thankful their students are for their hard work and dedication. The tricky part about winning is you have to be lucky enough to win the drawing or have the most nominations. Wolf pack members, remember to keep an eye out for any teacher you think deserves this special award. Don't forget to place your vote on Tuesdays and Thursdays. In the end, it's up to our fellow classmates to nominate the teachers they think deserve the Tireless Teacher award. This award is for teachers who are dedicated to their students, someone who never gives up on their students, and someone who fits this category and more.

MOVIE REVIEW

RELEASE YOUR INNER BEAST

By: Brianna Oropeza and Cassandra Gonzales

"Beastly" is a fantastic life changing movie that really makes you think. In this movie, you learn that love doesn't always come from the outside, you must find beauty within. On March 4, 2011, the movie "Beastly" changed many people's perspectives on where true love comes from. The director, Daniel Barnz, really captured that. He turned the screenplay into an unforgettable movie. The actors/actresses also made the movie so brilliant and unforgettable. Some of the main actors are Alex Pettyfer playing Kyle Kingson, Mary-Kate Olsen playing Kendra, Vanessa Hudgens playing Lindy, and Karl Grabshas playing the male teacher. The movie "Beastly" is about a conceited teen that learns his lesson about having the looks isn't everything. A fairy godmother casts a spell on him until he finds someone that will love him for his personality, not his looks. If he doesn't find someone, he will stay beastly forever. To find out if the curse is removed or he remains "beastly" for all time, you should watch this movie. I would definitely recommend Beastly. It's a romance movie that really plays on your emotions. The movie is brilliant and can even be life changing. It twists your emotions and makes you think. I honestly love this movie, its one of our favorites, so go get this movie on demand, rental store, or at a movie store. Get ready to release your inner beast!

CELEBRITY FEATURE

THE WANTED

By: Atira Nopenkam and Jocelyn Figueroa

Look out One Direction! There's another British boy band in town and it's The Wanted! Max George, Nathan Sykes, Tom Parker, Jay McGuinness and Siva Kaneswaran are the five people that make up this fantastic mesmerizing British boy band. They signed with Geffen Records in 2009. Tom, Max, and Siva were all born in 1988; in that order. Jay was born in 1990. Lastly, Nathan was born in 1993. Nate is the youngest member of the band, yet surprisingly, he has the deepest voice! The band's first single, released July 2010, 'All Time Low' reached number one in the UK. Currently, their new single 'I Found You', has already received several million hits on YouTube. Being a fan of The Wanted, I am totally crazy about this song! (Jocelyn) They have released five singles ('All Time Low', 'Heart Vacancy', 'Lose My Mind', 'Gold Forever' and 'Glad You Came'). Two of them have gone to Number 1 in the UK Singles Chart

- 'All Time Low' and 'Glad You Came'. Even though they're huge super mega pop stars, they still have hobbies just like any other person. Nathan, likes to play piano and sing of course. Max loves to watch football (in the US, soccer). The thing that Siva and Tom have in common is that they love to play and jam out on guitar. Jay, on the other hand, likes to watch movies such as 'Avatar'. They are currently nominees for Favorite Band, Duo Or Group – POP/ROCK in the American Music Awards. They also won the hottest group of 2010! We're pretty sure that they will eventually win more and more awards as they grow bigger and stronger in the music biz. In conclusion, The Wanted are very talented and are growing and achieving bigger and bigger in the music industry. We recommend that you listen to this fantastic and amazing boy band.

VIDEO GAMES

By: Josh Tolley

Do you want to know why my eyes are red,
My hair is messed, and I look unfed?
I spent all day in front of the TV
Playing video games on my Wii.
I started with Wii Sports Resort, then went to Wii Fit
I got so tired that I just had to sit!
I went on to Mario Bros, it took some time to load
I beat seven castles and then I saved Toad.
My mom called up, "Oh pretty please
Can you have your chores all done by three?"
I replied, "Sure, mom, no big deal,"
As I reached for the Mario Kart steering wheel,
I flew right by- it wouldn't do,
I only came in number 2!
I switched to Zelda and wanted to be the winner
I focused so hard I forgot my dinner!
When my mom came up to check on me that night,
What she saw gave her a great big fright!
I was still on the couch, looking melted and in pain,
Playing video games all day had really fried my brain
Now here is the lesson kids, when you play a video game,
Make sure you take some breaks so you don't go insane!

BAUMGARTNER'S SKYDIVE FROM SPACE

By: Joyce Zhong

We've all heard great stories about men and women skydiving from the tallest buildings to the steepest mountains, but have you heard of a man skydiving from space? Felix Baumgartner is a 43 year old man from Austria. He is the first to attempt to skydive from space and break the sound barrier using only his body. If he does not succeed, then unfortunately his skin will boil and death will catch him. He is extremely careful about the weather during this experiment. The wind in the New Mexico desert must drop before he can step out of the silver capsule he'll be riding in.

Baumgartner is to jump from a helium-filled balloon near the edge of Earth's atmosphere, approximately 23 miles up. Before he is able to open his parachute, Felix must free-fall up to a speed of 690 mph. He has spent five years preparing stunts and readying him for the final task. Baumgartner claims that if or if not he makes history, his sole purpose is "to advance scientific discoveries in aerospace for the benefit of mankind". In hope that Felix Baumgartner does succeed, his daredevil challenge is surely going to advance the scientific departments and inspire risk-takers around the world.

GAME REVIEW

NBA 2K13

By: Rami Madani and Kenneth Javier

The game of your dreams is finally here! NBA 2K13 is a basketball game playable on almost every video game console. It was developed by Visual Concepts, which is a company that develops video games. 2K13 was published by 2K sports, and produced by Jay Z. NBA 2K13 has many features including the My Career mode where you can customize your player and make him play until he becomes a professional and gets to be on an official team like the Lakers. The game also has all the teams from the Miami Heat to the Oklahoma City Thunder with updated rosters. 2K13 has past teams available to play like the 1996-1997 Bulls team featuring Michael Jordan. It also has the 1992 USA dream team and the 2012 men's national team. NBA 2k13 is rated 9.5 and will definitely be the sports game of the year. We recommend this game to all sports fans, especially basketball fans.
