Hey Wolves! Recently, ASB has elected some new officers for our school. They represent our school and school spirit. Vani Patel, Delanie McKeon, Stacey Lopez, Maddy Ruffin, and Justin Chang are our new officers. Vani is President, Delanie is the Vice President, Stacey is Secretary, Maddy is Treasurer, and Justin is the Member at Large. Each and every officer worked very hard to make a brilliant speech in hopes that their ASB peers would vote for them. This year's election was amongst the ASB class, instead of the entire student body. The ASB team has made excellent choices this year with voting in this year's officers. These positions aren't for just anyone; they require a lot of work and strong leadership skills. Justin, the Member at Large, backs up the positions of the higher officers whenever he has the chance to help. The position enables him to get to know and learn the officers. Outside of school he enjoys basketball, eating, and socializing, just like any other teen. His favorite part about our school is that he can be social with his friends, and that we have a variety of sports teams to support. If Justin were to have a super power, he would want teleportation so he could be anywhere he wanted. Justin is the first student to have this position. Last year there wasn't a Member at Large. Maddy manages and counts the money for ASB.

RAMIREZ ASB OFFICERS

Left-Delanie, Stacey, Maddy, Vani, Justin-Right

The passionate softball player thinks differently from Justin. Technology is her favorite aspect of the school. She likes to be involved, know what is going on, and participate in any new events coming up. Something random that Maddy shared with us is if she could have a super power, she would try shape-shifting into a hippo. However, on a real note, she would want all the super powers so she would be unstoppable. Stacey writes down information during discussions and meetings.

Stacey agrees with Maddy and also states that our school is awesome and the technology is a huge plus. After school, the busy Secretary participates in cheer and soccer. She likes how she can write everything down and know what is going on. If there is one thing that Stacey would chose to have as a super hero power, it would be the ability to fly without airplanes. Wahoo! Wouldn't that be fun! Delanie's job is to back up the president by overseeing the activities. This soccer player enjoys her new office as the Vice President because it is a blast, it gets her more involved in school spirit, and gave her more responsibility. Delanie also enjoys spending time with her family, outside soccer and school. Being invisible "would be fun", she says because she would be able to play around with people when they can't see her. The teachers, technology, and learning styles bring a smile to her face. Ramirez, to her, is amazing. There is nothing to change in her eyes. Finally, Vani runs the meetings and makes sure everything runs smoothly and answers a lot of questions. Vani was the treasurer last year. Now she is the person running the show as the president. Stepping up to the plate is just what she likes to do. Having responsibility and leading people is one of the major reasons she likes her current position. However, she doesn't just step up to the plate at our school; she also steps up to her life out of school by playing softball. The ability to heal people and make them feel better emotionally and physically would be the greatest superpower to Vani. Her favorite thing about Ramirez are the friendships and long lasting relationships she has established over the past two years. We truly have great morale at our school. The new ASB officers will do their best to give all of the wolves a fun experience here. They will give the 8th graders a memorable year and the new 7th graders an impression that will inspire them to run next year. If you see these newly elected officers around campus congratulate them and don't be afraid to ask about ASB!

The I-phone 5c Craze

By: Kaylee Amkhong

Who doesn't want a new phone that has different colors? Is the iPhone 5c the greatest phone there could ever be? For example, the iPhone 5c four inch retina display is unlikely to disappoint. Its colors are vibrant and the text is crisp. Despite being the same as the last generation iPhone 5, which has been succeeded by the Samsung galaxy S4 and the htc, it holds its own. Price depends on where you go to buy it and what contract you are signed with. Next, the iPhone 5c runs Apple iOS 7 mobile operating system.

It is the first major revamp of the software since the first iPhone was introduced. The iOS 7 looks great on the colorful iPhone 5c, perhaps more than it does on the more metallic iPhone 5s. Using the laptop battery test iOS 7, which simulates web surfing via lte with the screen at 40 percent brightness, the iPhone 5c lasted six hours and 21 minutes. The htc one mini lasted five hours and 42 minutes. The iPhone 5c is a fabulous option for everything you need to do. Hurry up and get it before they go out of stock.

Operation Gratitude

By: Savannah Dinco

Wondering what you'll do with that leftover candy once Halloween is over? Say hello to Operation Gratitude; a foundation dedicated to shipping care packages to our troops overseas. They are holding their second annual Halloween Candy Program. It's an event where they ship Halloween candy donated by the public to our soldiers. It would be a sweet way to give back to the community and send comfort to those who need it most. American soldiers are a national symbol of bravery, selflessness, and honor. They must live under the harshest of conditions in unfamiliar places, all while away from their families. They fight for our freedom, and suffer the many casualties of war daily. The least we can do is send a little taste of home and a word of thanks. Before you ship your donations, there are a few things you should know. Enclosing dental hygiene products and friendly letters in addition to candy are encouraged. Operation Gratitude will be accepting candy donations until mid-November. Please ship or deliver all candy donations to Operation Gratitude/California Army National Guard Halloween Candy, 17330 Victory Boulevard, Van Nuys, CA 91406, and Attn: Rich Hernandez. The boxes may be no heavier than fifty pounds. If you are donating chocolate, separate it from all other candy and send it in separate cartons, marked "Chocolate" or "Non-Chocolate". Sweeten a soldier's day with a little taste of home. If you would like more information, visit www.Operationgratitude.com/Halloween-candy-buy-back-2012/. Trick or Treat!

MEET OUR NEW PRINCIPAL

MR. DADE

There is a new administrator walking around our school campus. It's the new principal of our school Mr. Dade! Mr. Dade started his teaching career after he received his Bachelor's Degree from the University of Montana, Masters' from the University of LaVerne, and his Administrative Credential from the University of Irvine (UCI). Through the inspiration of his grandmother, past teachers, and colleagues, Mr. Dade passed up the chance of being a fireman and decided to go into the profession of teaching. Before having a job, Mr. Dade as a student, was very studious. He was also very athletic. In one of his basketball games, he was going for a dunk and a player from the other team was right under him, causing him to hit the rim with his mouth, chipping a couple teeth. As the new principal of Ramirez, there have been many changes to his day now that he is here. Previously, Mr. Dade was the assistant principal at Eleanor Roosevelt High School (ERHS) where the pressure was lighter than it is now. Before, he would support the Principal and the load wasn't that heavy. Now, as the principal, he has more pressure and control over our school. Our school is full of teachers and students that are so enthusiastic about learning. It is an awesome experience for Mr. Dade. Knowing that the students here are successful and getting the right education is a prize of its own to him. Getting to interact with students and staff is one of the highlights of the day. He is the leader of our pack, and is also the leader of his own pack at home. He is married to his wife Clara, and has three children. There is Dejah who is 13, Sasjah who is 11, and a nine-year-old boy named Ky Mani. He also has a seven year old Rottweiler called Max. He enjoys hanging out with his family and going to his children's games and practices. "The Goonies" is one of his favorite movies because it is fun to watch and he loves to watch adventure movies. Reggae music is the genre of our principal's taste, especially if it is by Tarrus Riley. Overall, our school is very fortunate to have such a great principal. He is a happy man, willing to give a helping hand. Mr. Dade is a man full of knowledge, passionate about teaching and learning new ideas. If you see him around campus, don't be afraid to say hi and ask how he's doing!

By: Katelyn Vu

SPOT LIGHT STUDENT INTERVIEWS

THE GIRL INSIDE

By: Taylor Phengrasamee

Some of you may know this girl. She's peppy, fun, and social. It's Abby Jocson! For some of you whom don't know her, she loves anime, hates vegetables and unhealthy food, and wants to become a dancer, author, choreographer, or tattoo artist when she grows up. She's always had a passion for dancing, and she's brilliant in gymnastics. She loves drawing and writing her own books because it's very similar to role playing anime. These are the characteristics you can see on the outside, but have you tried looking deeper inside. Abby loves rock music because it has a meaning and the band members inspire her. She says that they save lives every day with their music by showing people that they're not alone. If she could have healing powers,

Abby would heal Mitch Lucker, the singer, because he was an amazing inspiration and didn't deserve to have his life taken away. Music is her life, and to prove that, she said that if she had a million dollars, she would buy the band Merch everything they ever wanted and adopt a lot of band members like Kellin Quinn. Although Abby seems very happy outside, she has many insecurities and fears. If she could change anything about herself, she would want to change her weight to get skinnier because she thinks she's not skinny enough. Her biggest fear is being abandoned by everyone and having nobody to help her. She says that's why she can be cold-hearted at times because if she's too loyal to someone, they might stab her in the back. For the people she does choose to be her friends, she wants them to not be judgmental and to be kind, funny, and protective of her. Abby Jocson is truly a fascinating person to get to know. She is like all human beings; she has fears, hopes and dreams, and something to help her get through life. She's not like most people though. When you meet her, you can see this sparkle in her eyes that sees the world in a different perspective. She's full of curiosity and expresses herself in a variety of ways. Get the chance to know her, and you'll soon see what I mean.

GABRIELLE LEAL: THE ONE AND ONLY

By: Daniella De La Torre

Ever wonder who shares the announcements in the mornings? Gabrielle Leal loves to speak on the morning announcements, but it is nerve racking at times too because everyone judges you and can tell if your being fake or not. She tends to enjoy classic oldies from the 50's and Frank Sinatra because there is an actual story. Nowadays everyone is just worried about the beat. One word to describe Gabrielle is caring. Given a million dollars, she would buy houses for her whole family and donate the rest to her church or homeless teens. Gabrielle feels the amount of homework should change because we spend five hours in school, and we should be able to spend more quality time with our family.

She wants the hate on others and rudeness to just stop. Gabrielle believes in being loyal to her friends. She feels respect is important instead of going around talking about people behind their back. Do you remember the first days of school? Well she saw kids not knowing where their classrooms were, not knowing any of the teachers' names, and kids not knowing when lunch is. Her favorite movie is the classic Finding Nemo. The story line, scenery, and how they correlate the music to the scenes makes her love life in the waters. Gabrielle's brother plays football, so she enjoys watching him play. She also loves to play games with her family. Sometimes they will play games all night! Her favorite quote is "life is short" because she believes life is too short to be holding grudges, picking fights, and being miserable. She simply wants everyone to be happy. Gabrielle's role model is her godfather; he lost his leg, but he doesn't let his disadvantage stop him. He keeps his daily routine the same and keeps on moving ahead, ignoring his challenges. Gabrielle looks up to him because he blocks out the barriers and keeps moving forward. Gabrielle Leal is a fun girl to be around. She loves to crack jokes and is always upbeat. Whoever she talks to, leaves with a smile on their face. She just makes everyone feel good and brightens everyone's day.

TIRELESS

MR. G

TEACHER

Guess who won the Tireless Teacher Award? It's Mr. G! Mr. G teaches AVID here at Ramirez. When asked how he feels after winning the Tireless Teacher Award, Mr. G responded that he felt humbled because he knows there are a lot of teachers on campus who put in a lot of time and hard work. "It's great to be thought of as someone who puts in effort," he said. This is Mr. Gelzeichter's 12th year teaching. He has been a teacher at Ramirez for three years. Prior to that, he taught five years at El Cerrito Middle School, two in Taejon, South Korea, and two in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Mr. G received his Bachelor's degree from Indiana University, and eventually went on to earn a Master's degree from Point Loma University in San Diego. He became a teacher because he likes

By: Kate Anguiano and Marissa Mendoza

working with kids and enjoys helping them discover their academic abilities and talents. He believes the reason why his students are so successful in their classes is because they work hard, have confidence, and are driven to achieve. Outside of teaching, Mr. G enjoys spending time with his wife and two kids. He loves music, cooking, playing racquetball and going hiking in the foothills of Corona when time allows. Travel is something he loves to do as well. If Mr. G won a million dollars, he would buy some kind of property in Thailand and open up a butcher shop. There are obviously several reasons why Mr. G won the Tireless Teacher Award. He has an amazing personality that fills the room. Every student in AVID should be appreciative to have a teacher as tremendous as him.

STUDENT VOICES

TIME FOR A CHANGE

By: Savannah Dinco

You're ravenous. You didn't eat breakfast this morning due to your love for sleeping in. Unfortunately, you don't have enough money to purchase breakfast from the school cafeteria. So what do you do? Buy something from the vending machine to hold yourself off until lunch. Alas, that bag of gummy worms and chocolate muffin has more sugar than you're supposed to eat in an entire day! You'll be left feeling sluggish by mid-morning. This is yet another example of many, demonstrating that schools need to stock vending machines with healthy options. Presently, the national standards for snacks and drinks retailed in schools only limit some sugary foods like ice cream and hard candy. The United States Department of Agriculture's renewed nutritional standards include strict criteria for calories, fats, sugars, and sodium for food, and they only permit water, low-fat milk, and 100 percent juice in elementary and intermediate schools. While school meals have vastly improved nutritionally, children still regularly eat up to half of their daily calories at school. It's clear that those calories are coming from vending machines. Yet, many school vending machines remain stocked with snack cakes, cookies, potato chips, and sugary drinks. Everybody knows the damage junk food does to our bodies; however, few know that it affects our academic achievement, too. Allow me to elaborate; when we eat junk food, our blood sugar spikes. After a short burst of energy, it plunges back down lower than before, making it more difficult to focus in class. The average American child eats about 50 grams of sugar per day, when in reality, we only need 16 grams. Yeah, you heard me right, 16. If you do the math, we eat about 25 grams of sugar at school, an abundance of it from the vending machines. Despite the appalling statistics, few schools have made the switch. Some are concerned that the schools will lose money, as most kids prefer unhealthy over nutritious food. The majority of them are unsure of what will be both nutritious, and appealing to students. There are many healthier (and tastier) options, like yogurt, pita chips, seaweed chips, soy nuts, soy bars, string cheese, dried fruit, and flavored milk. Clearly, all food sources in schools should offer healthy options. Until these changes are made, bring your own snacks. Bon appétit!

LAWS EASIER ON CELEBRITIES?

By: Daniella De La Torre

Don't you hate it when the law punishes you, but a celebrity does the same exact thing and they just let them off with a warning! Most celebrities get off the hook when they commit illegal acts. When a normal citizen does the same thing they are charged with a fine or prison time. For example, 50-cent was arrested for giving an undercover cop drugs. Three weeks later, as the police were doing a house search, they found more drugs. A regular sentence would have been three to nine years, but he was only sentenced to six months. Next, Laura Bush, President George Bush's spouse, was in a car accident as a teen. She ran through a stop sign and ended up killing the driver of the other car. Later she found out it was one of her classmates. Most people would have been charged with manslaughter, but they didn't charge her at all. Finally, Snoop Dogg was charged with possession of a drug, an accomplice in a murder, and possession of weapons several times. He was only charged a sum or had suspended sentences. Average U.S citizens would have found themselves on death row or facing many years in jail. Celebrities should not get off so easy because they are famous; they should be treated as any regular citizen. Celebrities get away with so much, while the rest of us are ticketed, fined a lot of money or face jail time for anything we do wrong.

DOUBLING PASSING PERIODS

By: Samantha Mendoza

Are passing periods way too short? We should double the time. Students should have eight minutes to walk to a class instead of four. For example, since four minutes are being taken out of every class, we would just add those four minutes back. Even though 28 minutes would be added to school hours, it would be useful for some more time in each class. After all, sometimes teachers don't have enough time to teach everything, and students don't have time to learn all of it. Students get really stressed that they're not going to get to class on time. If we added just four minutes, students would feel relieved that they're probably not going to be late to class. The halls do get really crowded. Finally, we don't have time to go the bathroom, get a drink of water, or just say hi to our friends while still getting to class on time. Some students have a class at one end of the school and the next class at the other end. Several classmates have to use the bathroom in the middle of class. It would be much easier to add four minutes to the passing periods. Obviously, students need more time between periods. There would be enough time to go to the bathroom and get a drink of water. This would take a lot of stress off of students' shoulders.

iOS 7

By: Cole Young

Do you have Apple's newest software and iPhones? On September 20th Apple Inc. revealed its newest software, iOS 7. iOS 7 became available for download on Apple devices across the world on September 10th. The new software has many new features that will distinguish it from competitors such as Android and Samsung. Apple designed the new iPhone and ios to improve the experience of many iPhone/iPad/iPod users across the globe and to create more revenue. Apple is a technology company whose main goal is to optimize the experience of Apple users globally. iOS 7 is here to do just that. With iOS 7, consumers will be able to use many new features such as Control Center, Notification center, Multitasking, iTunes Radio, Photos, Airdrop, Camera, Safari, Siri, Mail, Weather, Messages and more. The first new feature that apple included was Control Center and Notification Center. 'Swiping up' on an iOS 7 compatible device can access Control Center. Control Center lets you have access to some settings, music, Airdrop, and some utilities. 'Swiping down' on an iOS 7 compatible device can access Notification Center.

Notification Center lets you see what the weather is like, mail, text, check phone calls that you missed, and event notifications. Multitasking lets you scroll through Safari pages and see apps on the bottom that you can access. Photos and Camera are completely redone. Camera now has a new feature which lets you decide on different filters that change the look of your photo. Photos also has a new feature that sorts out your photos into collections of where they were taken, and the year they were taken. Another feature on iOS 7 is Airdrop, which lets you share a photo, video, contacts and more; all with the click of a share button in control center. Airdrop also is an easy way to share with someone who is right next to you. Safari has been refurbished and is now faster. It also has many new features like Multitasking that makes it bigger and better than ever. iTunes Radio allows you to listen to radio stations through your iOS 7 compatible device. Mail and Messages has been redone and now offers a new typing keyboard. Siri will now have the power to check more sources such as Bing and Wikipedia. It will also have the power to return calls, play voicemails, and control iTunes Radio. You can now switch Siri's voice to a male voice or a female voice. It also runs faster and has a cleaner look to it. Overall Siri has many capabilities, a new look, and sound. The Apple app store has been redesigned and has many features that will make your Apple experience better. There is also a new feature that requires your Apple ID and password to erase the device and your Apple ID and password to reactivate it. This is great if your device is stolen. Also the lock screen and the icons on apps have been redesigned; the look is cleaner. iOS 7 is compatible with iPhone 4, 4S, 5/ iPod touch 5th generation, 16 GB, 32 GB, and 64 GB/ iPad 2, iPad with retina display, and iPad mini. Clearly, Apple's innovations have changed our perspective on how we look at technology today. Imagine what the future holds. iOS 7 is having a huge impact on the way we look at modern technology today. The iOS 7 has had a big impact on software that competing technology companies use around the globe. There are even rumors that Apple is developing an iwatch which is believed to be a small scale version of an iPhone. Apple Inc. has changed the world of technology, as we know it!

LANA DEL REY

By: Katelinh Vu

She got the Summertime Sadness! It's the singer Lana Del Rey! Born Elizabeth Woolridge Grant in New York city on June 21, 1986, the singer/songwriter started singing in Lake Placid, NY. Soon it wasn't enough. When she grew up, she went back to New York City to make a name for herself. In New York, Lana signed with a record company at the age 19. Unfortunately the company failed. Lana released an extended play (EP) in 2008 under the name of "Lizzy Grant", and later as "Lana Del Rey". Her biggest hit was "Video Games" which was uploaded on YouTube in 2011. In October of the same year, she signed with Interscope. "Video Games" turned out to be very popular.

On January 2012, her album "Born to Die" was released. Just days before the release, Lana appeared on Saturday Night Live as a guest performer. She was harshly criticized for being an amateur singer. Lana has recently completed a song for The Great Gatsby soundtrack. The song "Young and Beautiful", and her hit song "Summertime Sadness" has hit the charts, continuously being played on the radio. Lana Del Rey demonstrates the perseverance of an artist. Though she has been overcoming tough obstacles, and isn't known worldwide, she is still on the road to stardom. Listening to her music will have you singing along in the car!

DELIRIUM

By: Cassy Gonzales

In a society where everything is perfect and balanced, how much would you risk to choose love over life its self? "The deadliest of all things: it kills you both when you have it, and when you don't." the captivating novel Delirium is written by the amazing author Lauren Oliver. It was published on February 7, 2012 and has been a huge hit. This book has even received 4.5/5 stars on the Barnes and Nobles book rating scale. Delirium is the 1st book in the Delirium trilogy. "Now I'd rather be infected with love for the tiniest sliver of a second than live a hundred years smothered by a lie." In the world of Delirium amor deliria nervosa, also known as love, is considered the deadliest of all diseases. Once people reach the age of 18 they are required to undergo a procedure that cures them.

People are then forced to live a happy loveless life with the person they are matched with. Seventeen-year-old Lena is 95 days away from her procedure; everything is going fine until she meets an invalid (A person who has not been cured yet and lives in the wild) named Alex. They fall in love, but will their love be put to an end? Or will they risk everything to remain together? To find out you must read this amazing book. The dystopian society and totalitarian government adds to the excitement. This captivating book will have you on the edge of your seat the entire time! I would definitely recommend this book to people. I promise you won't regret one single paragraph!

13 TREASURES

By: Taylor Phengrasamee

Many of you say you hate reading, but have you really explored the world of books? I recently read a fascinating book titled 13 Treasures by Michelle Harrison. The story quickly caught my attention. It's a fantasy book with mysteries concealed and an evil twist in the end. There are five characters that are important factors in this story: Tanya, the main character; Florence, her grandmother who owns Elveden Manor; Warwick, the groundskeeper; Fabian, Warwick's son; and Red, Tanya's new friend. This takes place in the present at the Elveden Manor. Apparently, Tanya is the only one who can see fairies doing evil things to her. She can see them because one of her ancestors was probably a fairy switched at birth, so Tanya gained the 'second sight'. Her mother gets tired of all the ruckus "Tanya" caused, so she is being sent to live with her grandmother for the summer at Elveden Manor. When Tanya arrives at the Manor, she finds the library unlocked and discovers books that could help ward off fairies. She studies and takes those precautions. One night she hears something and follows it to a secret passageway. Tanya gets caught by a fiery red-headed girl who calls herself "Red". They both realize that they have the 'second sight' and Tanya helps Red save a fairy from the human world. Tanya goes on an adventure to reveal a mystery from over 50 years ago, but will she discover that this might cost her her life? I don't want to be a spoiler, so if you want to find out more, buy the book and read it. You won't regret it! I was obsessed with curiosity when I first started reading this amazing book. Questions ran through my head all the time like, what's the mystery? What's going to happen to Tanya? Will anyone save her before it's too late? Read and discover a world full of magic and dark secrets that have yet to be told.

INSTAGRAM

By: Marissa Mendoza

As you have probably heard, Instagram is a great social networking app for editing pictures to share. The popular photo and video sharing app, Instagram, was bought by facebook. The inventers of this amazing app are Kevin Systrom and Michael Krieger. This app is so close to being a five star app! Over 150 million users love Instagram! Instagram is a simple way to capture and share the world's moments. You can customize your own photos and videos with one of several gorgeous and custom built-in filter effects. You get the opportunity to transform everyday moments into works of art you'll want to share with friends and family. I've made many friends through Instagram. Several people think that instagram is a waste of time and that is too much drama on peoples' 'posts'. This is all wrong. I hardly ever see any drama because, when you comment on a post that has to do with gossip, everyone else can see it. Most people just go on Instagram because there is nothing else to do. I definitely recommend it because you meet and make lots of new friends.
